

Project update

Archerfield Road, Azalea Street and Pine Road intersection upgrade

Dedicated to a better Brisbane

August 2026

We're excited to share the final design for the Archerfield Road, Azalea Street and Pine Road intersection upgrade and announce that construction will commence ahead of schedule.

This important upgrade will improve safety, accessibility, and connectivity for everyone who travels through the growing communities of Inala and Richlands.

Thanks to valuable community feedback, we have finalised the design for this important upgrade to one of the area's most dangerous intersections.

We are upgrading the intersection with new traffic lights, dedicated turning lanes, safer pedestrian crossings and improved connections. This project will make the intersection safer and more predictable and creates better, more accessible pathways for everyone who walks, rides or drives.

CONSTRUCTION STARTING EARLY

Construction will now be starting later this year and along with installing traffic lights and turning lanes, we will be upgrading and relocating underground water, electrical and communication services.

Further information about construction activities and timing will be provided to you closer to the start of works.

A MESSAGE FROM THE LORD MAYOR

The upgrade of the Archerfield Road, Azalea Street and Pine Road intersection will make it safer and easier for everyone travelling through this busy corridor.

Thank you to everyone who shared their feedback. Your input helped shape a design that will make it easier to cross the road and improve traffic flow, helping to keep Brisbane moving.

We're looking forward to starting construction in late 2026.

Adrian Schinner,
LORD MAYOR OF BRISBANE
