Illaweenaa Street improvements project – Stretton

Construction

What works are coming up?

Works to build a new car park with 54 car parking spaces on Illaweenaa Street are now underway, with the project due for completion in late 2025, weather and site conditions permitting.

When will this work take place?

Start	From 7 April 2025
Finish	Late 2025
Time and day	Day works 7am to 5pm, Monday to Saturday

At times, night works may be required, when traffic volumes are lowest and to ensure the safety of road users and workers and to minimise traffic disruptions. We will notify the local community ahead of night works being scheduled.

What does this mean for me?

If you live in or are travelling through the area you may notice:

- construction fencing on the verge of Illaweenaa Street to delineate the work area
- yellow no stopping lines on both sides of Illaweenaa Street (between the fauna land bridge and Gowan Road)
- no pedestrian access from Illaweenaa Street to Stretton State College Primary Campus
- increased noise, truck movements, low level dust and vibration while works are underway.

Why is this work happening?

The new car park facility on Illaweenaa Street will provide safe and accessible parking. The second phase of construction will deliver improvements to the Illaweenaa Street and Gowan Road intersection to improve traffic flow at peak times. Works at the intersection are scheduled to start later this year. We will notify you ahead of these works starting. To minimise impact on road users and for the safety of workers, these works will be scheduled at night.

Parking

During the construction phase, no parking is permitted on the verge along Illaweenaa Street, adjacent to the school oval.

For the safety of all road users, yellow no stopping lines and no parking signage will be in place along both sides of Illaweenaa Street to prevent motorists stopping.

Please use alternative parking options including the car park on Gowan Road, or on Illaweenaa Street, adjacent to the senior campus, or neighbouring streets to access Stretton State College Primary Campus.

Please allow additional time when travelling through the area.

We are aware this is a busy area at school pick-up and drop-off times and value your patience and cooperation while we work to deliver this important upgrade.
