

Brisbane City Council's community facilities

Council makes a range of its properties available for not-for-profit community organisations to rent through lease or licence agreements.

This brochure answers questions for tenants and prospective tenants to help you make the most of more than 600 properties being used for sport, recreation, cultural or community purposes.

Dedicated to a better Brisbane

I am a Council tenant

What are my organisation's responsibilities if I have a lease?

- Pay your bills including
 - lease preparation fees
 - Council's annual rent
 - expenses identified in your lease e.g. electricity, rates, water consumption and sewerage.
- Hold current insurance policies including $20 million in public liability insurance and building insurance if you have a building/s.
- Undertake regular operational maintenance e.g. replace light globes, cut grass, paint, clean and remove rubbish.
- Conduct repairs and annual safety checks including structural maintenance of any building improvements that you construct.
- Undertake annual inspections including electrical, pest and smoke alarms.
- Appoint a community liaison officer, develop a process to resolve complaints, and get involved in communicating with your local community.
- Comply with all local, state and federal laws.
- Use the facility for the purpose and during the times outlined in your lease.

- Meet with Council at least once a year, complete an evaluation form, and provide copies of certificates of currency, licences, safety inspections and annual financial reports.

What are my organisation's responsibilities if I have a licence?

- Pay your bills including
 - licence preparation fees
 - Council's annual rent
 - expenses identified in your licence e.g. electricity.
- Hold current insurance policies including $20 million in public liability insurance.

What are Council's responsibilities?

What other support can Council provide?

Council offers a range of grant programs that you may be able to access to support your operations. Visit www.brisbane.qld.gov.au to find out more.

Eligible community organisations can also get assistance to negotiate applicable fee reductions e.g. development assessment and rates.

Council may also provide support with community facility improvements, turf maintenance and field remediation.

My organisation is seeking accommodation in an existing Council facility

Council is committed to the fair and equitable allocation of land and facilities to the Brisbane community for sport, recreation, cultural and community purposes.

When allocating a community facility Council seeks to:

- promote equitable access to facilities for a range of community, sport, recreation and cultural organisations
- provide positive benefits and values to the community
- ensure the use of community facilities is aligned to the Brisbane Vision as well as Council's strategies, legislative requirements and regulatory frameworks
- increase the health, social wellbeing and community life of the city
- ensure the facilities are not used for political gain, places of worship or activities that support violence, intolerance or discrimination
- promote optimal use of community facilities in cooperation with residents and community organisations
- work in partnership with community organisations to ensure that the development and management of community facilities reflects community need and best practice
- encourage community development by providing community organisations with facilities and other resources to deliver their activities.

What is the process for leasing or licensing a Council facility?

When facilities become available, Council may advertise and seek expressions of interest from eligible community organisations.

Council is not obliged to accept an application, but will explore all available options to assist each applicant to meet its objectives.

If your application is successful, Council will contact you to negotiate an agreement with your organisation.

If your application is unsuccessful, Council will contact you if another suitable facility becomes available in the following 12 months.

Council cannot guarantee the allocation of community facilities to every organisation that applies. However, we will explore all available options to assist each community organisation.

My organisation is seeking to establish a new facility on existing Council land
